Consumer Report Notice

(AZ, CA, CT, GA, IL, KS, ME, MN, MT, NJ, NV, NC, OR, VA, VT & WI)

Consumer Report Form

In order to evaluate your initial and continuing eligibility for insurance products provided by Insurance Carriers, certain reports will be ordered from independent consumer reporting agencies. These reports are a necessary part of the carrier review and are used to verify or supplement information that you may have already provided to us. Examples of the type of reports that may be ordered include a Motor Vehicle Report (MVR), Additional Driver Discovery Report (ADD) or Insurance Claim Report (CLUE).

The information obtained will only be used for business purposes by the insurance company (ies) to which we submit your quote requests. If you wish, the carrier can provide you with the name, address and phone number of the consumer reporting agency who prepared the report.

Motor Vehicle Report – this is only ran once the application is submitted for issuance

A Motor Vehicle Report (MVR) is obtained from any state Motor Vehicle Department that has licensed you, or other operators under your policy. This report reflects the driving record information they have on file for you including accidents and motor vehicle violations.

Additional Driver Discovery Report- this is only ran once the application is submitted for issuance

Additional Driver Discovery reports help identify potential additional drivers in a household.

Insurance Claim Reports- this is only ran once the application is submitted for issuance

Insurance claim reports, such as C.L.U.E. (Comprehensive Loss Underwriting Exchange) and others are provided by independent consumer reporting agencies that collect claim information from many insurance companies. The claim information that is collected is retained and shared with other subscribing insurance companies.

Credit-Based Insurance Score Reports

In connection with this insurance, the carrier may use a credit-based insurance score based on information contained in your credit report. An insurance score uses information from your credit report to help predict how often you are likely to file claims and how expensive those claims will be. Typical items from a credit report that could affect a score include, but are not limited to, the following: payment history, number of revolving accounts, number of new accounts, the presence of collection accounts, bankruptcies and foreclosures. The information used to develop the insurance score comes from LexisNexis. Where permitted by law, we may use this information to decide whether to insure you or how much to charge.

Important Notice for Residents of AZ, CA, CT, GA, IL, KS, ME, MN, MT, NV, NJ, NC, OR, VA, VT AND WI

Personal information may be collected from persons other than you. Such information may in certain circumstances be disclosed to third parties without authorization, as allowed by law. Upon request, you are entitled to receive a notice of information practices.

If you receive an adverse underwriting decision notice concerning your application or coverage, you are entitled to make a written request within 90 days of the date of the notice to be provided with the specific items of information that support the reasons for the adverse underwriting decision by the insurance carrier and the names and addresses of the institutional sources that supplied the information to the consumer reporting agency.
